Berlin

21. 6. 2002 21. 6. 2002

This MS Nurse Workshop was designed to provide nurses who treat Multiple Sclerosis patients with up-to-date information on the latest care options available. The workshop combined lectures, interactive working groups and panel discussions to help nurses effectively cope with MS patients. Opportunity for interaction and questions comprised a significant amount of program time.

OBJECTIVES

At the conclusion of this course the participant was able to:

- Describe the elements of symptom management;
- Apply nursing care plans to MS;
- Compare the various disease modifying therapies and how to use them;
- Identify the psychosocial aspects of MS;
- Describe the quality of life issues related to MS;
- Define the role of rehabilitation therapy in MS.
